

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry "documentary" "Stolen Honor" days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. This is an abuse of the public trust, and it should be stopped.

Sinclair's totalitarian attempt to manipulate the democratic process with a show that historians are saying is factually inaccurate is obvious yellow journalism, and shows why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them.

I do not appreciate the public airwaves being used in an attempt to use propropaganda to undermine the election process. This is an abuse of the public trust and must be stopped. This is your job. Please do not let us down; do your job.

Thank you.
